

Name: _____

Alliteration (pronounced: Al-lit-er-A-shun) is the repetition of consonant sounds. It can show a certain mood or feeling, and it can be fun to read!

A Misty, Mellow Morning

by Lill Pluta

Beginning sounds create a mood,
A misty, mellow morning.
Until a wacky wombat comes
To wreck things without warning.
But if a baby buffalo

Preview

Please log in to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

Name: _____

A Misty, Mellow Morning

Read the following lines from the poem and underline the words that have alliteration.

1. “Until a wacky wombat comes
To wreck things without warning”
2. “But if a baby buffalo
Bolts boldly through the door”

Preview

Please log in to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

Only two lines of the poem do not contain any alliteration when you read each line by itself. Go back to the poem and circle them.

Write your own example of alliteration on the line below.

ANSWER KEY

A Misty, Mellow Morning

Read the following lines from the poem and underline the words that have alliteration.

Preview

Please log in to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

Answers will vary.