Mother's Day Cake

by Anita Amin

For Mother's Day I tried to bake
An eleven layer chocolate cake,
One layer for each of the years
Mom wiped away my tears and fears.

She streaked some flour on my nose.
From that a flour fight arose.
We laughed, then made that second cake,
Chit-chatted while we watched it bake.

Mom's gift was perfect - and quite tall.

I iced on top, "Best Mom of All."

It made Mom laugh. "I've got to say,
This has been the best Mother's Day!"
