Adverb Poem

Adverbs modify or tell you more about a verb. They give information about when, where, why, and how an action happened. Many adverbs end in -ly.

example: Ben quickly ate his sandwich, so he could play with his friends.

The word quickly is an adverb. It tells how Ben ate.

In the space form below, choose an exciting adverb to complete each line of the poem. Be sure you're writing only adverbs. Reread your poem to make sure each line makes sense.

Then, rewrite and illustrate your poem neatly on a blank sheet of paper.
