

Name: _____

Homework

by S. V. Richard

Jim and Meg go to school. Jim likes reading. Meg likes math. Jim and Meg have a lot of homework.

"Wow," says Meg. "I have six math problems to do."

"Oh, no," says Jim. "I have ten math problems to do."

Meg helps Jim with his math homework. Jim works each problem.

Meg

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

Jim helps her read big words.

"Great job!" says Jim.

"That was a lot of homework," says Meg.

"I am glad we are done," says Jim.

"Me too," says Meg.

"Now we can go outside and play!" says Jim.

"Okay. Tag, you are it!" Meg runs out the door.

Name: _____

Homework

by S. V. Richard

1. Does Jim like to read or solve math problems?

2. How does Jim help Meg?

_____ He checks her math.

3. _____ homework?

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

ir

4. How many math problems does Jim have to do? _____

How many math problems does Meg have to do? _____

How many math problems do they have in all? _____

ANSWER KEY

Homework

by S. V. Richard

1. Does Jim like to read or solve math problems?

Jim likes to read.

2. How does Jim help Meg? c

a. He checks her math.

- 3.

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

ir

They go outside and play tag.

4. How many math problems does Jim have to do? 10

How many math problems does Meg have to do? 6

How many math problems do they have in all? 16