

Name: _____

Hi, Heels. Bye, Heels.

by Crystal Moore

I strike a pose and smile,

Then prance by looking tall.

I stride. I glide. I slide!

I went and took a fall,

'Cause Mom I can't quite wear

PREVIEW

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

- a. She isn't being careful.
 - b. She is going down stairs.
 - c. She is hiding from her mother.
 - d. Her feet are too small for the shoes.
2. Name the two verbs in the first line of the poem.

3. What does the word stride mean in the third line of this poem?
 - a. to walk clumsily
 - b. to walk with short steps
 - c. to walk with long steps
 - d. to look carefully in a mirror

ANSWER KEY

Hi, Heels. Bye, Heels.

by Crystal Moore

I strike a pose and smile,

Then prance by looking tall.

I stride. I glide. I slide!

I went and took a fall,

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

1. Why does the main character in this poem fall down? a
 - a. She isn't being careful.
 - b. She is going down stairs.
 - c. She is hiding from her mother.
 - d. Her feet are too small for the shoes.
2. Name the two verbs in the first line of the poem.
strike and smile
3. What does the word stride mean in the third line of this poem? c
 - a. to walk clumsily
 - b. to walk with short steps
 - c. to walk with long steps
 - d. to look carefully in a mirror