3. How did the Herman W. Block Library come into existence?
The Herman W. Block Library came into existence years ago when Miss Franny was a young girl. Her father was a rich man and he told her she could have anything she wanted for her birthday. Miss Franny asked for a library, a small house filled with nothing but books. In turn, her father built her the very library they were standing in and Miss Franny became the youngest librarian ever.

4. How did Opal pay for Winn-Dixie's new collar and leash?
Opal could not afford the collar and leash that she wanted, but she did not want to settle for something different. She told the man at the pet store that she would pay for the items by working off her debt, and he agreed.
5. At the end of Chapter 8, Opal started feeling less alone, why?

Opal started feeling less alone because suddenly she had a dog, a job, Miss Fanny Block for a friend and her first invitation to a party.
