1. What was the pig's name who was in the pen next to Wilbur?
   a. Homer   b. Spring Pig   c. Uncle   d. Bob

2. What was Charlotte's opinion of the pig next to Wilbur?
   _____________________
   _____________________
   _____________________
   _____________________

3. What two qualities made the pig next to Wilbur hard to beat?
   _____________________ and _____________________

4. How was Charlotte feeling?
   a. tired   b. excited   c. full   d. worried

5. For Charlotte, why was the next word she would weave extra important?
   _____________________
   _____________________
6. What word was it?

____________________________________

What does it mean?

____________________________________________________________________________________

7. What did Charlotte say to Wilbur to calm his fears over being killed when the cold weather came?

____________________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

8. What was Charlotte's magnum opus, and why did she consider it to be that?

___________________________________________________________________________________________

___________________________________________________________________________________________

8. What was Charlotte's magnum opus, and why did she consider it to be that?

___________________________________________________________________________________________

___________________________________________________________________________________________

9. How many eggs did Charlotte lay?

   a. 397
   b. 514
   c. 55
   d. 100
10. Why was Charlotte sad when she was thinking about her children next spring?

___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________

11. What news did Templeton deliver to Charlotte and Wilbur?

___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________

12. After their disappointment, what surprise news did the Zuckermans hear over the loud speaker at the fair?

___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________

13. How did the announcement make Charlotte feel? Why?

___________________________________________________________________________________________
___________________________________________________________________________________________

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.
1. What was the pig's name who was in the pen next to Wilbur?
   a. Homer
   b. Spring Pig
   c. Uncle
   d. Bob

2. What was Charlotte's opinion of the pig next to Wilbur?
   Charlotte didn't care for Uncle, the pig next to Wilbur. She thought he was too familiar, too noisy, and cracked weak jokes. He wasn't as clean or as pleasant as Wilbur, and he had a very unattractive personality.

3. What two qualities made the pig next to Wilbur hard to beat?
   Size and Weight

4. How was Charlotte feeling?
   a. tired
   b. excited
   c. full
   d. worried

5. For Charlotte, why was the next word she would weave extra important?
   This word was extra important because it would be the last word she would ever write.
6. What word was it?

Humble

What does it mean?

Humble means not proud and close to the ground.

7. What did Charlotte say to Wilbur to calm his fears over being killed when the cold weather came?

Charlotte calmed Wilbur's fears because she told him that he was a famous pig and a good pig, and that he would probably win a prize. The whole world would be happy to hear about him and Zuckerman would be proud to own such a pig.

8. What was Charlotte's magnum opus, and why did she consider it to be that?

Charlotte's magnum opus was her egg sac. She considered it to be that because magnum opus means great work, and she felt her egg sac was the finest thing she'd ever made.

9. How many eggs did Charlotte lay?

b. 397

c. 55

d. 100

Super Teacher Worksheets - www.superteacherworksheets.com
10. Why was Charlotte sad when she was thinking about her children next spring?
She was sad because she knew that she would not be around to see her children when they arrive next spring.

11. What news did Templeton deliver to Charlotte and Wilbur?
Templeton informed Charlotte and Wilbur that the pig next door already received the first place ribbon, and he wouldn't be surprised if Zuckerman changed his mind and turned Wilbur into ham and bacon.

12. After their disappointment, what surprise news did the Zuckermans hear over the loud speaker at the fair?
Over the loud speaker the Zuckermans heard a voice tell them to bring their famous pig to the judges' booth and a special award would be given there.

13. How did the announcement make Charlotte feel? Why?
This announcement came as a relief to Charlotte because at last she was sure that she had saved Wilbur's life, and this made her feel peaceful and content.