You can find me in woods, grasslands, and deserts in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

I am an animal. I am about the size of a house cat.

I am striped, but I am not socks or a sweater. I am not a tiger or a zebra.

Some of the things that I eat are mice, frogs, snakes, birds, grass, and nuts.

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.
If you come too close to me, I will spray a TERRIBLE smelling spray. I will warn you first – I will stamp my front feet, growl, and put up my tail. If you do not get away fast, you will smell very bad. Phew!

What color am I?

I am black and white.

I am a skunk.

Written by Linda Anderson

For the complete collection of “What am I?” challenge puzzles, please visit SuperTeacherWorksheets.com.
Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.
What Am I?

By Linda Andersen

Phew! What is that bad, bad smell? Oops, it must be me. I do give off a terrible odor sometimes.

What am I? Let me give you some hints.

You can find me in woods, grasslands, and deserts in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

I am striped, but I am not socks or a sweater. I am not a tiger or a zebra.

I am black and white.

I am an animal. I am about the size of a cat.

Some of the things that I eat are mice, frogs, snakes, birds, grass, and nuts.

If you come too close to me, I will spray a TERRIBLE smelling spray. I will warn you first – I will stamp my front feet, growl, and put up my tail. If you do not get away fast, you will smell very bad.

Phew!

What am I?
Phew! What is that bad, bad smell? Oops, it must be me. I do give off a terrible odor sometimes.

What am I? Let me give you some hints.

You can find me in woods, grasslands, and deserts in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

I am black and white. I am an animal. I am about the size of a cat.

Some of the things that I eat are mice, frogs, snakes, birds, grass, and nuts.

If you come too close to me, I will spray a TERRIBLE smelling spray. I will warn you first – I will stamp my front feet, growl, and put up my tail. If you do not get away fast, you will smell very bad. Phew!

What am I?

Answer: I am a skunk.