Long ago, I was a food eaten only by poor people in Italy. Today, I am a popular food that is eaten all over the world. I may be one of your favorite foods.

A queen of Italy made me popular. Her name was Queen Margherita. She tasted me and loved me. Other people wanted to eat what the queen ate. They tasted and loved me too.

People in the United States started to eat me just over one hundred years ago. They eat me for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. I can be a tasty snack too.

I am usually made in a circle shape. People often cut me into triangle shapes to eat me.
A woman named Rose Totino began to make, freeze, and sell me. It became easy for people to buy, bake, and eat me.

I am made with bread, tomatoes, and cheese. Many people like to put pepperoni on me. People put other meat, vegetables, and toppings on me too.

I am a pizza.

Written by Linda Anderson

For the complete collection of “What am I?” challenge puzzles, please visit SuperTeacherWorksheets.com.
Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.
What Am I?

By Linda Andersen

Long ago, I was a food eaten only by poor people in Italy. Today, I am a popular food that is eaten all over the world. I may be one of your favorite foods.

A queen of Italy made me popular. Her name was Queen Margherita. She tasted me and loved me. Other people wanted to eat what the queen ate. They tasted and loved me too.

People in the United States started to eat me just over one hundred years ago. They eat me for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. I can be a tasty snack too.

I am usually made in a circle shape. People often cut me into triangle shapes to eat me.

A woman named Rose Totino began to make, freeze, and sell me. It became easy for people to buy, bake, and eat me.

I am made with bread, tomatoes, and cheese. Many people like to put pepperoni on me. People put other meat, vegetables, and toppings on me too.

What am I?
What Am I?

By Linda Andersen

Long ago, I was a food eaten only by poor people in Italy. Today, I am a popular food that is eaten all over the world. I may be one of your favorite foods.

A queen of Italy made me popular. Her name was Queen Margherita. She tasted me and loved me. Other people wanted to eat what the queen ate. They tasted and loved me too.

People in the United States started to eat me just over one hundred years ago. They make me for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. I can be a tasty snack too.

I am usually made in a circle shape. People often cut me into triangle shapes to eat me.

A woman named Rose Totino began to make, freeze, and sell me. It became easy for people to buy, bake, and eat me.

I am made with bread, tomatoes, and cheese. Many people like to put pepperoni on me. People put other meat, vegetables, and toppings on me too.

What am I?

Answer: I am pizza.