Name: _____

Commas After the Words Yes and No

Use a comma after the word yes or no at the beginning of a sentence.

examples:

Would you like to have a tea party with me?
Yes, I would like to have a tea party with you.
(Place a comma after the word yes.)

Are those your stuffed animals?
No, these stuffed animals belong to my sister.
(Place a comma after the word no.)

Write an answer to each question. The answer should include the word yes or no (as indicated) and rephrase the question, similar to the examples above.

Preview
Please log in to download the printable version of this worksheet.

2. Will you make my bed? (no)

_____

_____

3. May I have some more oatmeal cookies? (no)

_____

_____

4. Will you play checkers with me? (yes)

_____

_____

ANSWER KEY

Commas After the Words Yes and No

Use a comma after the word yes or no at the beginning of a sentence.

examples:

Would you like to have a tea party with me?
Yes, I would like to have a tea party with you.
(Place a comma after the

Are those your
No, these stu
(Place a c word no.)

Write a ch question. The answer should include the

Super Teacher Worksheets
Preview
Please log in to download the printable version of this worksheet.

2. Will you n ? (no)

No, I will n

3. May I have some more oatmeal

No, you may not have more oatmeal cookies.

4. Will you play checkers with me? (yes)

Yes, I will play checkers with you.