A linking verb is a word that joins the subject of the sentence to the words in the predicate.

Common linking verbs include: be, am, are, is, was, were, seem, look, feel, sound, and taste.

example: Austin and Ella were tired.

The word were links the subject, Austin and Ella, to the predicate, tired.

Here is how you make a diagram of a sentence with a linking verb:

1. Robert is hungry.
2. The cookie tastes delicious.
3. Dan and Steve are here.
Sentences with Linking Verbs

4. The tiny baby is happy.

5. The fresh pie smelled wonderful.

8. The magician was amazing.

9. The lost child looked scared.
A linking verb is a word that joins the subject of the sentence to the words in the predicate.

Common linking verbs include: be, am, are, is, was, were, seem, look, feel, sound, and taste.

Example: Austin and Ella were tired. The word were links the subject, Austin and Ella, to the predicate, tired.

Here is how you make a diagram of a sentence with a linking verb:

1. Robert is hungry.
2. The cookie tastes delicious.
3. Dan and Steve are here.

ANSWER KEY

1. Robert is hungry.
2. The cookie tastes delicious.
3. Dan and Steve are here.
4. The tiny baby is happy.

5. The fresh pie smelled wonderful.

8. The magician was amazing.

9. The lost child looked scared.