Reduce!

Reducing what you use means using less of it. This makes less waste. This can help the planet.

There are lots of ways to reduce what you use. If you use two paper towels to dry your hands, try using one instead. A refillable water bottle can reduce the number of plastic ones you use. Turning the faucet off when you brush your teeth can reduce the amount of water you use.

Think of another way you can use less of something. Draw a picture of it in the box below.
