A collective noun names a group of people, animals or things. Sometimes a prepositional phrase follows a collective noun.

Example: A pack of wolves.

Pack is the collective noun. The prepositional phrase, of wolves, tells you what makes up the pack.

Write the letter of the prepositional phrase that best matches each collective noun.

1. _____ flock
2. _____ school
3. _____ deck
4. _____ bouquet
5. _____ string
6. _____ litter
7. _____ herd
8. _____ bunch
9. _____ fleet
10. _____ army

- a. of puppies
- b. of geese
- c. of ants
- d. of cattle
- e. of beads
- f. of ships
- g. of fish
- h. of cards
- i. of flowers
- j. of bananas
A collective noun names a group of people, animals or things. Sometimes a prepositional phrase follows a collective noun.

Example: A pack of wolves.

Pack is the collective noun. The prepositional phrase, of wolves, tells you what makes up the pack.

Write the letter of the prepositional phrase that best matches each collective noun.

1. ______ flock
2. ______ school
3. ______ deck
4. ______ bouquet
5. ______ string
6. ______ litter
7. ______ herd
8. ______ bunch
9. ______ fleet
10. ______ army

Answer Key:

b. of geese

g. of fish

h. of cards

i. of flowers

j. of bananas