Color all of the short e words in the poem with a crayon.

Wet Pet
by Lill Pluta

I am wet. My pet is wet.
Don't let me get much wetter.
Here is a net to fetch your pet.
Thank you. That is much better.
Wet Pet
Poem by Lill Pluta

Write 8 \textit{short e} words from the poem.

______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________
______________________________  ________________________________