

Name: _____

Pronouns: I or Me?

Me and I are first person pronouns. You use them to talk about yourself.

I is used as a subject.

I ate the last banana.

Me is used as an object.

Jack called me. (direct object)

Jack gave me the directions. (indirect object)

Jack made a cake for me. (object of the preposition)

Choosing the correct pronoun can be confusing when the subject or object is compound. To make it easier, concentrate only on the pronoun. Cover the other part of the compound subject or object and then look at it.

example: My brother and (I/me) rode our bikes to the baseball field.
Which is correct? I rode my bike or Me rode my bike?
The correct answer is I. Use I for a subject.
