There are many kinds of farms. Most of the food you eat comes from farms.

Some farms have lots of cows. The cows make milk that people drink. Big trucks take the milk to stores.

Corn is one food that comes from farms. Farmers plant the corn. They water the corn so it grows tall. Then they pick it and send it to stores.

Many farms have hens that lay eggs. Farmers must feed the hens every day. They also have to get the eggs every day. Some eggs are brown and some are white.
