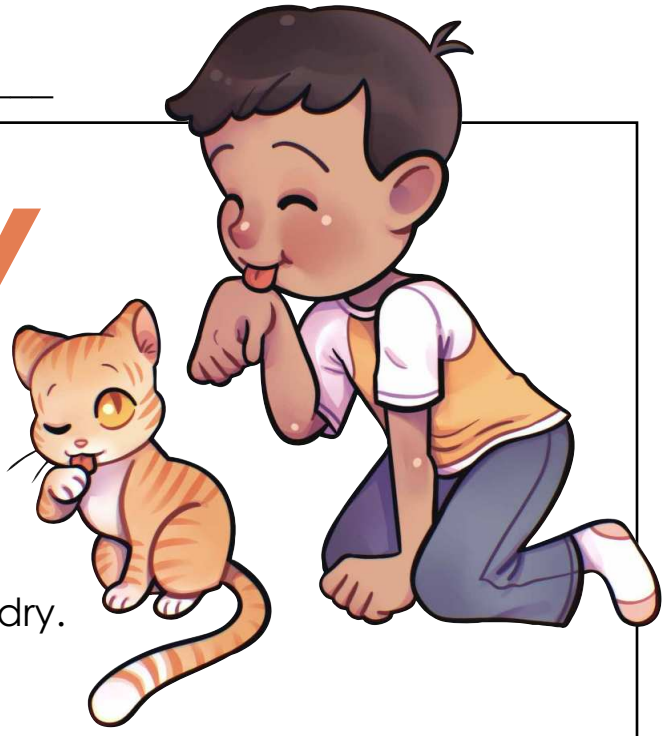
Name: _____

Kitten Play



By Katie Clark

Seth saw the kitten pounce on a ball. Kitten play looked like lots of fun!

"Meow!" said the kitten.

"Meow!" said Seth.

Grams stood at the dryer folding laundry. Kitten batted at a sock in the basket.

"Meow," the kitten said.

Then Seth batted at a sock on the bed. "Meow," Seth said.

"Are you helping with the laundry?" Grams said. "I have two very

Mud dripped from Seth's shirt and hat.

Pop stood at the tree, picking apples from the branches. He saw the kitten and Seth fall in the mud.

"It looks like our kittens need to take baths."

After they were both clean, Seth and the kitten sat on Grams' bed drying off. Seth's tummy growled.

"It's almost noon. Would you like some lunch?" Grams asked.

"Meow!" Seth said. He and Grams fixed his favorite kitty treat—fish sticks! He gobbled them up and yawned. Maybe it was time for a cat nap. Being a kitten was hard work.
