“What is in your lunch box today?” Will asked Kate.

Kate looked in her lunch box. “I have a ham sandwich and carrot sticks,” she said. “What is in your lunch box?”

“Tomato soup and a banana,” Will said. “And something else, too.”

“What is it?” Kate asked.

“I will give you a clue,” Will said. “What is black and white and smells like flowers?”

“I don’t know,” Kate said. “What?”

“A skunk wearing perfume,” Will said.

“You have a skunk in your lunch box?” Kate said.

“No,” Will said. He showed Kate a piece of paper. “My mom put a joke in my lunch box.”
1. What was in Kate’s lunch box?

__________________________________________________________________

2. Who had tomato soup and a banana for lunch?

__________________________________________________________________

4. What surprise did Will find in his lunch box?

a. a skunk

b. perfume

c. a joke

d. cookies

5. Draw a picture to go along with this story.
1. What was in Kate’s lunch box?
   - a ham sandwich and carrot sticks

2. Who had tomato soup and a banana for lunch?

3. Where does this story take place?

4. What surprise did Will find in his lunch box?
   - a. a skunk
   - b. perfume
   - c. a joke
   - d. cookies

5. Draw a picture to go along with this story.