Randy couldn’t wait to get to school. It was Mrs. Anderson’s birthday, and she promised the class a special treat to help her celebrate. Randy knew that Mrs. Anderson was a great baker. She always made the most delicious cakes and cookies for the school bake sales. Randy’s mouth watered as he walked into the room and took his seat.

Mrs. Anderson had a long covered container on her desk, and the room smelled incredible from whatever goody Mrs. Anderson had made. Everyone sniffed the air and smiled in anticipation. Once the class was settled, Mrs. Anderson said, “As promised I have a special treat for you today.”

Randy’s stomach growled.

“Wait, Mrs. Anderson,” Olivia said. “We have to sing happy birthday first.”

Randy sighed. He really wanted to see what Mrs. Anderson had made. But the class always sang on someone’s birthday. So Randy sang along, imagining cakes and cookies the whole time.

Finally it was time to eat. Randy sat forward in his seat to get a good view of the container. Mrs. Anderson said, “I decided to do something a little different today. I wanted to share something really special with you, so I made my grandmother’s famous blueberry muffins.” With a big smile, she uncovered the container.

Randy slumped back in his seat. Blueberry? Randy didn’t like blueberries. Mrs. Anderson walked around the room, giving out the muffins. When she got to Randy's desk, he politely said,

“No, thank you. I don’t like blueberries.”

“Are you sure you don’t want to at least try one?” Mrs. Anderson asked. “You could pick the blueberries out if you’d like.”

“No, thank you.” Randy lowered his head and rubbed his grumbling stomach. He’d skipped breakfast, and now he was really hungry. He watched his classmates eat the muffins and comment on how delicious they were.

Finally Randy couldn’t take it. He was so hungry he didn’t care if the muffins had blueberries. Just as he was about to raise his hand, Mrs. Anderson put a muffin on his desk. “As a birthday present to me, do you think you could at least try one?”

Randy nodded. He took a small bite, trying not to get a blueberry. But a little bit of purplish fruit got in there anyway. Randy tasted the tart yet sweet blueberry and smiled. “Hey, these are good!” He took another big bite, getting several blueberries this time.

“I’m glad you like them, Randy,” Mrs. Anderson said. “And thank you for trying them for me.”

Randy tried to say, “You’re welcome,” but it was tough to do with a mouth full of blueberry muffin.
A Birthday Treat
by Kelly Hashway

1. Whose birthday is being celebrated in the story?
   a. Olivia’s
   b. Randy’s
   c. Marvin’s
   d. Mrs. Anderson’s

2. When Mrs. Anderson said, "I have a special treat for you today," how did Randy feel?
   (circle one word from the list)

   disappointed
   angry
   worried
   excited

   Explain why he felt this way.

3. Why
   a.
   b.
   c.
   d.

4. Randy was very hungry when it was time to eat the muffins. Why?
   a. He skipped breakfast.
   b. He skipped lunch.
   c. He forgot to bring a snack to school.
   d. He just ate cupcakes.

5. What lesson can be learned from this story?

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Super Teacher Worksheets - www.superteacherworksheets.com
A Birthday Treat
by Kelly Hashway

The scrambled words below are vocabulary words from the story. Unscramble each word and write it on the line. Please be sure each word is spelled correctly.

1. ______________________________ sluidoeci
   hint: tasty; yummy

2. ______________________________ topinacianti

3. ______________________________

4. ______________________________ eitpolly
   hint: with good manners

5. ______________________________ senpret
   hint: gift

6. ______________________________ tencmom
   hint: to give an opinion
In the story, “A Birthday Treat,” Randy is afraid to try Mrs. Anderson’s blueberry muffins because he doesn’t think he likes blueberries. When he tries them, he discovers that he likes them.

Think of a specific food that you enjoy that some people may not have tried. Write a persuasive paragraph in which you convince readers to try the food you have chosen.

__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________________
A Birthday Treat
by Kelly Hashway

1. Whose birthday is being celebrated in the story?
   a. Olivia’s
   b. Randy’s
   c. Marvin’s
   d. Mrs. Anderson’s

2. When Mrs. Anderson said, “I have a special treat for you today,” how did Randy feel? (circle one word from the list)
   a. disappointed
   b. angry
   c. worried
   d. excited

   He was excited because he thought he was getting cake or cookies.

3. Why were the blueberry muffins special to Miss Anderson?
   a. She grew the blueberries herself.
   b. They were made from her grandmother’s recipe.
   c. Her class helped her make them.
   d. Her daughter helped her make the muffins.

4. Randy was very hungry when it was time to eat the muffins. Why?
   a. He skipped breakfast.
   b. He skipped lunch.
   c. He forgot to bring a snack to school.
   d. He just ate cupcakes.

5. What lesson can be learned from this story?
   Answers may vary.
   Possible answer: If you try new things, you may find that you like them.
The scrambled words below are vocabulary words from the story. Unscramble each word and write it on the line. Please be sure each word is spelled correctly.

1. delicious
   sluidoeci

2. anticipation
   topianiaci
   To feel excitement beforehand

3. goody
   oydogo
   Treat; snack

4. politely
   eitpolly
   With good manners

5. present
   senerpret
   Gift

6. comment
   tentcmo
   To give an opinion

---

Super Teacher Worksheets - www.superteacherworksheets.com