I like to make up recipes.
I do it every day.
I’d rather cook creatively
Than watch TV--or play!

Mom lets me use the kitchen, if I clean up when I’m through.
(She didn’t like it when I spilled The Cherry-Whipped Cream Stew.)

From Pickle-Pudding-Applesauce
To Salsa-Cottage Cheese,
I find the special combo
That is guaranteed to please!

I served up Pepper-Chocolate Milk,
And Orange-Peanut Glop …
I once surprised my Grandma
With a frosted Ketchup Pop!

The pantry and the spice rack
Are like a treasure trove ....
I’ll like it even more when I’m Allowed to use the stove.
Creative Cooking
by Ruth Donnelly

   b. A young girl makes a mess of the kitchen.
   c. A young girl invents strange and unusual recipes.
   d. A young girl helps her grandmother by making dinner.

2. The girl in the poem is NOT allowed to do two things. What are they?

   a. ____________________________________________________________________
   b. ____________________________________________________________________

3. Which word best describes the girl’s mother?
   a. angry                   b. confused
   c. patient                 d. excited

4. What is the writer's purpose for writing this poem?
   a. to teach readers about cooking
   b. to make readers hungry
   c. to persuade readers to try cooking
   d. to make readers laugh

Challenge: On a separate sheet of paper, write a recipe for Cherry-Whipped Cream Stew, Orange-Peanut Glop, or any other the other foods mentioned in the poem.
1. Read the poem "Creative Cooking," by Ruth Donnelly. Then read the short novel Freckle Juice, by Judy Blume. Write a paragraph to tell how both stories are alike. Then, write a second paragraph to tell how they're different.

2. On a separate sheet of paper, write a recipe for Cherry-Whipped Cream Stew, Orange-Peanut Glop, or any other the other foods mentioned in the poem. Be sure you include a list of ingredients step-by-step directions, and an illustration.

3. Write a creative story that describes grandma’s reaction to the Frosted Ketchup Pop. Describe what grandma says when she receives the popsicle, what her face looks like when she tastes it, and what she says to her granddaughter when she eats it.

4. Make a list of kitchen safety rules that all kids should follow. (example: Do not use the stove unless an adult is helping you.) Write your list of rules on a poster. Be sure your poster has a title and at least five different rules. Decorate your poster with markers or crayons.
