“I’m going to make a time capsule,” Anna told her parents at the breakfast table.

Dad looked up from his coffee mug and smiled.

“Sounds interesting. Say hello to the pilgrims for me.”

Laughing, Anna shook her head. “No, Dad. You’re thinking of time travel. I’m building a time capsule—it’s like a memory box. I watched my principal dig one up from our school yard yesterday. Some students buried the capsule thirty years ago. It had a lot of old stuff in it, so we could see what life was like back then.”

After breakfast, Anna went to her dad’s workbench in the garage. She looked around and found an old coffee can filled with nuts and bolts. She dumped them out so she could use it as her time capsule.

With her kitten following close behind, Anna browsed through her things. She grabbed her favorite book, her yo-yo and some photos. She packed them in the can. She pulled off her charm bracelet and placed it in the can too.

“What else should I put in here?” she asked Kitty. “The newspaper? So people will know what happened today?” Anna ran downstairs and brought back the newspaper. She folded it up and in the can it went.
“Meow.” Kitty nudged a ball toward the can.

“Sure, Kitty, I’ll include your ball.” Anna put Kitty’s ball in the can.

Anna put the top on and sealed the can with tape. On the front, she wrote ANNA AND KITTY’S TIME CAPSULE with a thick black marker.

She carried the can outside. After grabbing a shovel from the shed, she buried her time capsule in the garden. “All done,” she told Kitty.

After a few minutes, Anna sighed. What should she do next? She couldn’t yo-yo. Or read her favorite book. She’d buried those. Now, she missed them.

She scratched her head, then paused. She missed the sound of her bracelet clinking too.

“Meow.” Kitty pawed the burial spot.

“Do you miss your ball?” Anna asked. “Don’t worry. I’ll get it for you.”

So Anna dug up their time capsule.

Kitty pounced on the ball.

And Anna pulled on her bracelet and read her book while yo-yoing under a tree in the garden.
The Time Capsule
by Anita N. Amin

1. In the beginning of the story, what did Anna's father think a time capsule was?
   a. a memory box
   b. a machine for telling time
   c. a machine for traveling in time
   d. a Thanksgiving play

2. List six items that Anna placed in her time capsule.

__________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________

3. Where did Anna bury her time capsule?
__________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________

4. How long had the time capsule at Anna's school been buried?
   a. a dozen years
   b. two decades
   c. three decades
   d. 30 minutes

5. How long was Anna's time capsule buried?
   a. more than a year
   b. 30 minutes
   c. a few hours
   d. less than 30 minutes
The Time Capsule
by Anita N. Amin

Fill in the missing letters to create a word from the story. Then, write the full word on the line. Be sure you spell each word correctly.

1. ___ r i ___ i p ___ ___
   clue: head of a school

2. ___ ___ p s u ___ ___
   clue: small container

3. ___ ___ f f ___ ___
   clue: hot drink made from roasted beans

4. ___ ___
   clue: jewelry worn around the wrist

5. ___ u ___
   clue: process of burying something

6. ___ a r ___ ___ r
   clue: writing tool filled with ink

7. ___ o u ___ ___ e d
   clue: jumped on top of something

Super Teacher Worksheets - www.superteacherworksheets.com
The Time Capsule
by Anita N. Amin

In the story, "The Time Capsule" you read about a girl who places items in a time capsule and buries it in her backyard garden.

Imagine you were going to create a time capsule and bury it in your yard. Write a paragraph in which you list four things you would put in your time capsule. Give a reason for choosing each item.

_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________________________________
1. In the beginning of the story, what did Anna's father think a time capsule was? c
   a. a memory box
   b. a machine for telling time
   c. a machine for traveling in time
   d. a Thanksgiving play

2. List six items that Anna placed in her time capsule.
   her favorite book, her yo-yo, photos, a newspaper, her charm bracelet, and Kitty's ball

3. Where did Anna bury her time capsule?
   in the garden

4. How long had the time capsule at Anna's school been buried?
   c
   a. a dozen years
   b. two decades
   c. three decades
   d. 30 minutes

5. How long was Anna's time capsule buried?
   d
   a. more than a year
   b. 30 minutes
   c. a few hours
   d. less than 30 minutes
The Time Capsule
by Anita N. Amin

Fill in the missing letters to create a word from the story. Then, write the full word on the line. Be sure you spell each word correctly.

1. principal
   clue: head of a school

2. capsule
   clue: small container

3. coffee
   clue: hot drink made from roasted beans

4. bracelet
   clue: jewelry worn around the wrist

5. burial
   clue: process of burying something

6. marker
   clue: writing tool filled with ink

7. pounced
   clue: jumped on top of something

~PREVIEW~
Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.