About Your Spelling Words

The spelling words on this week's list often confuse people. Pay close attention to the spelling of these words because they may look similar, but they have different meanings. They are likely to be pronounced differently as well.

- Here's a fun trick for remembering the words desert and dessert.

A desert is so dry, only one S can grow.

- Some words in this week's list are homophones. These are words that are pronounced the same but have different meanings. Can you find the homophones in this week's list?
