It's about time I made it to the Cornhusker State! Which state is that, again? Maybe I'll travel to the capital of Lincoln to ask around. Or maybe I should go to the state's most populated city, Omaha.

I think they should rename this the "Kool-Aid State," since the popular drink was invented here.

I am lost!

Can you tell me which state I'm in?
Penelope Peabody Lost in the United States!

Name: __________________
Date: ____________
Answer: ______________

Name: __________________
Date: ____________
Answer: ______________

Name: __________________
Date: ____________
Answer: ______________

Name: __________________
Date: ____________
Answer: ______________

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.
Answer: Nebraska

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.