

Michael's Birthday Mom

A Money Math Book

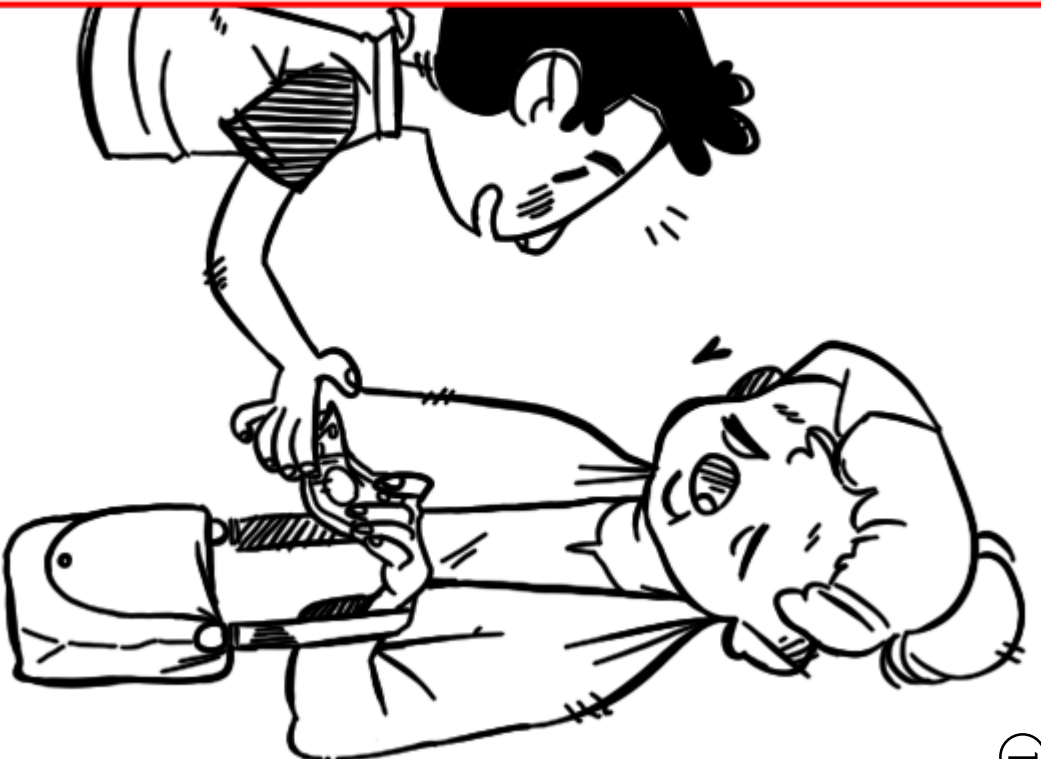

Illustrated by Caitlin W

Name: _____

Super Teacher Worksheets - www.superteacherworksheets.com

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

Michael turned 9 years old, so his grandma gave him a gift for his birthday.

The next morning, Michael heard some beautiful music coming from far away. He knew it was the ice cream truck coming toward his street. He smiled and ran for his birthday money. He spent two dollars and twenty-five cents on a chocolate ice cream cone. Then Michael said, "I'm going to save the rest! It's going right in my piggy bank as soon as I get home!"

How much money did he have left?

answer: _____

show

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

Michael finished his ice cream, his friend Patty. She sold him bubbles for only one dollar and twenty-six cents! What a great day! Michael said, "I'm going to save the rest! It's going right in my piggy bank as soon as I get home!"

How much money did he have left?

show your work

On his way home, Michael ran to the playground to watch a baseball game. The team was selling candy bars for one dollar and thirty-five cents each. Michael bought one of the peanut butter ones. Then Michael said, "I'm going to save the rest! It's going right in my piggy bank as soon as I get home."

How much money did he have left?

show

answer:

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

Michael strolled down the sidewalk, he passed a woman selling candy bars. He bought a yellow one for one dollar and thirty-five cents. Michael said, "I'm going to save the rest! It's going right in my piggy bank as soon as I get home."

How much money did he have left?

show your work

Michael was almost home when he saw his friend Billy. He and Billy decided to toss the baseball around for a little while. Michael threw the ball right through Mrs. Johnson's window. The new glass for the window cost three dollars and thirty-nine cents. Then Michael said, "I'm going to save the rest! It's going right in my piggy bank as soon as I get home!"

How much money did he have left?

show

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

Michael arrived home. He put the rest of his money in his piggy bank where it was safe and could not be stolen.

answer:

ANSWER KEY

~ PREVIEW ~

Please log in or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.